

Teen Space Newsletter: Spring 2010

Hello Teens!

We're in the middle of getting some stuff updated so this newsletter is going to be fairly short, but I'll try not to make it too boring.

What's Happening in the Teen Space?

We have programs every Tuesday and Thursday in the Teen Space, offering movies, video games, crafts and more. It's a few months away yet, but once Summer is upon us you can expect to see a shakeup of the normal schedule.

You want to have a say in what happens in the Teen Space? Join the Teen Advisory Board and make your voice heard. How do you join you ask? It's quite easy, simply talk to one of your friendly youth services librarians. As an added incentive, time spent on board meetings counts as community service hours. Need hours for bright futures? Talk to us, even if you don't want to be on the advisory board we can find something for you to do.

Reminders:

Please follow the rules of the Teen Space. There are signs around the teen space that give you the specifics, but the general idea is "be nice to your fellow library users" and "don't bring non-water drinks into the teen space." I guess that second rule was fairly specific.
